Additional Information:

- G272 Warning and Coordination is an elective course for the FEMA APS Certificate.

Prerequisite:

IS-271.A: Anticipating Hazardous Weather & Community Risk, 2nd Edition

Course Purpose:

This course addresses warning coordination for weather or flooding related events. It provides training to help facilitate the process whereby State, local, tribal, and territorial officials responsible for warning coordination and communication work closely with the National Weather Service (NWS) and the news media to provide effective warnings that can be received and understood by people at risk. The effective coordination of these warnings is paramount to saving lives and protecting property.

Course Objectives:

- Predict how people in the community may respond to different types of warnings based on social factors.
- Develop a hazardous weather warning message based on a specific event and the threat it poses to the community Identify staffing, information, systems, and equipment needs at the EOC.
- Explain the interlocking sets of activities that work together to form an effective community warning system.
- Propose improvements to a community's warning system based on identified breakdowns in coordination and communication.
- Develop warning messages for a given scenario that are targeted for delivery by a particular media type.
- Develop a warning coordination and communication strategy for a given scenario.

Target Audience:

- This course is designed for State, tribal, local and territorial government emergency program managers, or officials responsible for coordination and communication. All others will be accepted on a space-available basis.
